Social media norms of logging in, liking posts, and endlessly scrolling while handing over our data to private corporations have grown habitual. IRL issues remain intact RE: the police state, white supremacy, data breaching \(privacy\) & climate collapse re: the planet...

The archives are located in physical rooms often filled with server racks that are being liquid cooled 24/7, not "on" the world wide web.

IRL IRL is looking for less anxiety inducing or habit forming methods of sharing ideas and communicating amongst ourselves & with 'the public'. Contributions/contributors will be anonymous unless preferred otherwise - images as well as text are welcome. Think of this as your IRL DM/Timeline. All submissions automatically accepted.
